King of Italy Visits Troops in Belgium Before Leaving on Return Trip to Rome

(By United Press.)

Paris, Dec. 21.—President Wilson will return to Paris from his English trip, December 30, preparing to take up the final preliminaries of the formal allied conference. By that time he will have obtained the preliminary points of view of the British, French and Italian diplomats, together with those of some neutrals.

The presidential party will leave Paris for American head-quarters, Chaumont, on a special train December 24.

Another special train will carry the party from Chaumont to a channel port Christmas night. The president will reach London at 2:30 in the afternoon. He will go to Buckingham palace where he will dine with King George. The president will dine at the Guild hall on the 27th and will go to Manchester on the 29th. On the 29th he will go to Carlisle, the birth-place of his mother, where there is to be a concert. He will return to London that night and will leave for Paris the following day.

Paris, Dec. 21.—King Victor Emmanuel of Italy left Paris at midnight to visit Italian troops in Belgium. Premier Orlando and Foreign Minister Sonnino, of Italy, remained in Paris, but will start for Rome tonight, expecting to return early in January. The Italian king will start Sunday for Rome, going directly from Belgium.

President Wilson and the American delegates had a day of few interruptions before them in which to study various plans proposed for carrying out Mr. Wilson's program.

Apparently the other powers are looking to the United States to present a concrete proposition concerning freedom of the seas. There is reason to believe the proposed limitation of construction of naval craft to lightly armored vessels, like revenue cutters, whose only purpose would be to protect merchant shipping, finds favor.

Advocates of this plan say there would be no further use for heavily armed ships, if all nations were placed on an equal footing by this means. In answer to the British plea that she requires a great navy to defend her colonies, exponents of limited armaments say, with no strong enemy of the sea, England would not require a great fleet, as she could protect her distant possessions by transported troops, sent on armed transports. This, however, is only an idea advanced to open

Paris, Dec. 21.—Great Britain is willing to go as far as possible to meet President Wilson's point of view regarding freedom of the seas, according to the first members of the British peace-delegation to arrive.

ONLY 2 NEW CASES OF "FLU"

Encourage Report From Health
Authorities Today

An encouraging report regarding the influenza situation was forthcoming from the health authorities today, only two new cases of the malady being reported. They were Miss Marjorie Cox, 1018 North Morgan street and Edna Mae Wyrick, 1121 West Market. No new cases outside of Rushville, according to the records of the health officers. Today's report is quite a contrast with yesterday's when there were fifteen additional patients.

NEW MEMBERS ARE ESTIMATED AT 6,500

Incomplete Reports on Red Cross
Roll Call Drive Indicate This
Today

ORANGE IS 61.26 PERCENT

It was estimated this afternoon that the total number of 1919 Red Cross members enrolled in Rush county Roll Call campaign was 6,500. This estimate is based on incomplete reports from many parts of the county and shows an increase of 1,000 over the estimate of Thursday.

It was stated today at Roll Call headquarters that many people were found who had never been solicited. Those in charge of the campaign urged people who had been missed to look up the canvassers in their districts and enroll at once.

Dave Alter, Orange township captain, today reported a total of 551 1919 members, which amounts to 61.26 percent of the population. In taking a careful census of the population, the solicitors found there had been a decrease of 181 since the government census of 1910.

The percent of members obtained in each district was as follows: N. E., Bert Reed chairman, 67.75; N. W., Claude Wagoner chairman, 65.16; S. W., Claude Miller chairman, 44.5; S. E., Harvey Fisher, chairman, 67.66.

WOULD NOT DISCUSS 5 OF WILSON'S 14 TERMS

Senator Lodge Urges Postponment
Until a Binding Peace Treaty
Has Been Signed

DOUBT ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS

(By United Press.)

Washington, Dec. 21.—Calling President Wilson's league of nations idea "captivating and attractive," Senator Lodge, republican floor leader, seriously questioned its practice, its working plan, to keep the peace of the world. Lodge asked a series of questions as to whom would be members of the league, whether Germany is to be included and whether small nations are to have a vote equal to large nations. Lodge urged postponement of discussion of the following five of the president's fourteen peace terms until a satisfactory and binding peace treaty has been signed:

League of nations; freedom of seas; secret diplomacies; economic barriers; reduction of armament.

Declaring that "Germany did not change its nature over night when the kaiser ran away to Holland," Lodge demanded a peace backed by physical guarantee, that would make it impossible for that country "to break out again upon the world with a war of conquest."

FOR GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP.

Berlin, Dec. 21.—The soldiers' council, at its final session, adopted a measure providing for government ownership of telegraph lines and all essential industries.

Less Boasting and More Generosity Needed Here

Apropos of the recent agitation for a county hospital as a memorial for the Rush county boys who have served in the war, the following communication was today submitted to the Daily Republican for publication:

Your efforts to arouse interest in the matter of a memorial to the boys of this county, who have followed the flag in the great war, seems to have met with but little response. What's wrong with Rush County? The indifference which has marked the attitude of this community towards its boys in service has been a positive scandal.

Neighboring counties have long had their "Roll of Honor" conspicuously placed in the court house yard and most of them have already made definite plans for a permanent memorial. But here in rich, boastful Rush county the wells of gratitude have seemingly gone dry.

And then consider our record in the recent United War Work campaign. Indiana, our good old Hoosier state, quickly went over the top as usual. But Rush county deserves no share in the glorious record. She remains a nasty black spot on the map. Hardly more than half of the quota has been raised.

Yes, quibbling excuses may be advanced, but our neighbors did not stop to quibble, did not take refuge behind some mean criticism, as an excuse to tighten their purse strings at the first rumor of peace.

Without complaint they met the call which meant the safeguarding of the morals of the boys whose self-sacrifice made it possible for the rest of us to remain safe and comfortable at home.

Just now the Red Cross campaign is on, and we are told that slackers are being found, even in this noble work of mercy. Surely there must be something wrong of late in this once splendid glorious Rush county.

Might it not be well to have less boasting about the number of hogs we raise, about the bushels of corn these fruitful acres of the Almighty yield, about the ever-swelling bank accounts, and cultivate instead a little more of the spirit of Christian and civic generosity?

ing ill a prey,

SALVATION DEPENDS ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Former German Ambassador Bernstorff is Optimistic About the Peace
Outlook.

DENIES PART IN PLOTS HERE

(By United Press.)

Berlin, Dec. 21.—German people feel that their political salvation is contingent upon the successful inauguration of a league of nations, according to the opinion of Count Von Bernstorff, former German ambassador to the United States. Bernstorff, who knows President Wilson better than any other German in public life, is optimistic over the outlook for the peace settlement along line advocated by the president.

He expressed his view in an interview with the United Press today. In his first public statement regarding America since the declaration of war, Bernstorff reiterated that he had done everything in his power to prevent a break between the United States and Germany.

He denied that he was in any way connected with the plot against the United States government fomented by the former attaches of the German ambassador at Washington.

London, Dec 21.—The conference, which will elect a president of the German republic, will assemble December 29, a Berlin dispatch stated today.

Count Brochdorff, minister to Denmark, has been appointed German foreign minister.

RAILROAD STATION BURNS

Greencastle, Ind., Dec. 21.—Fire yesterday destroyed the Monon railroad station at Cloverdale, ten miles south of here. In the building were all the records, cash and much freight. A half carload of coal adjoining the station also was burned. The origin of the flames has not been determined.

MAKES AN APPEAL FOR COUNTY AGENT

T. A. Coleman Urges County Council, at Session Today, to Renew Appropriations

TURNED DOWN IN SEPTEMBER

T. A. Coleman of Lafayette, who is in charge of county agents work in Indiana under the direction of the Purdue extension department, made a plea before the county council today for a renewal of the appropriation to maintain an agricultural agent in this county.

The council refused to make this appropriation, as requested, at its annual meeting in September when the appropriations for next year's county expenses were made. It was impossible for the county council to reconsider its action of September today, according to the law, but it is stated that the council has the authority to make the appropriation in January if it sees fit to do so. There was much opposition to an agricultural agent at the September meeting and it is doubtful whether the council will make appropriate the necessary funds next year.

The council met today to make deficiency appropriations for this year.

REED PREFERS CHARGES

Missouri Senator Sees Politics in Bolo Pasha Affair.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Dec. 21.—Charges that Deputy Attorney Becker, of New York, used the information he received about Bolo Pasha, for political purposes, were made today, by Senator Reed, Missouri, when the senate committee that is investigating the work of the German propagandists, resumed its hearing. Reed insisted that politics played a big part in Bolo affairs.

ORDERS COUNCILS OUT.

Amsterdam, Dec. 21.—The British governor of Cologne ordered the workmen's and soldiers' council to discontinue their activities at once on both banks of the Rhine and to evacuate all public buildings.

LATE SHOPPERS IN RUSH

Rushville Thronged With People
Doing Christmas Trading

Rushville was thronged today with late Christmas shoppers who were making their final purchases. The streets and stores were crowded and jammed with people, and the usual rush of the pre-Christmas season did not seem one bit less despite the agitation this year in favor of early shopping. Unusually large crowds have been in Rushville every day this week and business men report that Christmas trade has been extraordinarily good.

CHRISTMAS MAIL IS LIGHTER THAN USUAL

Postal Officials Declare Pre-Holiday
Business is Not up to The Standard

PLANS FOR CHRISTMAS DAY

Christmas business at the Rushville postoffice up to today has been smaller than at any pre-holiday season in several years, according to Postmaster G. P. Hunt. The reason for the falling off is not accounted for unless it be due to the fact that so many parcels were sent earlier to soldiers overseas. This, however, should not decrease the volume of business as much as it has fallen off.

The mailing station in the lobby of the postoffice was not opened until yesterday, and even then there was no great rush such as has been common at this season in other years. Postal officials, however, were expecting a big rush today and the first two days of next week.

As in the past, postal employees will deliver every Christmas package which arrives here Christmas day. For this reason patrons are asked not to call for parcels. It would be impossible to find them and they are assured of receiving all of the packages arriving here. Rural carriers will make the usual deliveries and will help with the city delivery of parcels if necessary.

FRANK ALFRED HELD FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

Accused of Appropriating to His Own Use $250 Worth of Junk
Belonging to Employer

WORKING FOR HYMAN SCHATZ

Frank Alfred of this city was arrested at Laurel yesterday evening by T. McAllister, special constable from Squire Stech's court, on a charge of embezzlement made in an affidavit filed by Hyman Schatz, local junk dealer, Alfred's former employer. Squire Stech fixed Alfred's bond at $500 and he is still, being unable to provide bail.

Alfred is accused in the affidavit of embezzling $250. It is alleged that on or about October 30 he appropriated junk worth this sum for his own uses, having obtained possession of it while buying junk by virtue of his employment by Schatz.

Alfred gave the authorities a long chase before they finally found him at Laurel and placed him under arrest.

George Washington Is Due on Christmas Day

(By United Press.)

New York, Dec. 21.—The United States transport, George Washington, carrying Indiana troops, is due to arrive in port on Christmas day, it was reported at embarkation headquarters today.

CAPT. KIPLINGER NOT COMING HOME

Commander of Headquarters Company is Attached to Third American Army of Occupation.

CABLE RECEIVED BY WIFE

Indications are 139th Will be Mustered out at Fort Harrison, According to New Order.

Captain John H. Kiplinger who organized Company B here and was made commander of the headquarters company of the 139th Field Artillery when that organization was formed from Indiana infantry regiments at Camp Shelby, Miss., is not on the George Washington which is bringing the 139th home, but is attached to the Third American army of occupation, according to a cablegram received by his wife yesterday evening.

Captain Kiplinger said in the cable that he would soon be in Coblenz, the German fortress on the Rhine, which has been occupied by American troops. The message disclosed that Captain Kiplinger's efforts to get on detached duty so he would not have to return home at once, have been rewarded.

Indications were today that the 139th as well as the 137 Field Artillery, which as well is made up mostly of Indiana men and is a unit of the 38th division, would be mustered out of the service at Fort Benjamin Harrison. There is every reason to believe this because of an order received at Fort Harrison yesterday.

The two regiments are aboard the transport George Washington, on which President Wilson went to Europe, and are due to arrive at New York about Christmas eve. The order received at Ft. Harrison did not name the two regiments, but it did say 3,000 artillerymen were coming to the United States on the George Washington, which could mean no others.

The 137th Field artillery, formerly commanded by Colonel George W. Freyer, was the old 3d Indiana infantry, and the 139th, now under command of Colonel Robert L. Moorhead, was the 4th Indiana infantry.

It is not known here who is commanding the 137th artillery. Colonel Freyer did not go abroad with the regiment. Lieutenant-Colonel Orville Kilmer was second in command under Col. Freyer.

The order received by Colonel Wildurr Willing, post commander at Ft. Harrison, advises him that 3,000 artillerymen now at sea enroute to this country, will be demobilized here and instructs the post commander to prepare to muster the men out of service here. The order also advises that the artillerymen will be entrained for the journey from sea-board immediately after they are landed from the ship. No time will be spent in an eastern cantonment. Allowing for delays it is expected the regiments will arrive here in two weeks. About one week will be required to muster out officer and men.

The 3d Indiana Infantry was recruited in northern Indiana, and the 4th Indiana infantry was recruited in Indiana by Colonel Moorhead. After the two regiments had been settled in training at Camp Shelby, Mississippi, more than a year ago, their designations as national army units were given them. News that they were to be converted into artillery was received while the regiments were at Ft. Harrison. Officers were considerably shocked by the announcement at that time, as they all had some training in infantry work, and none in artillery. Throughout the year that the regiments remained in this country after being mobilized, officers and men underwent intensive artillery training. They sailed for Europe in Oc-

SPAIN IN FAVOR OF LEAGUE

(By United Press)

Paris, Dec. 21.—Spain to the last man, favors the league of nations, Premier Romonos declared in an interview with the United Press here today.

"Half of Spain's national budget, consists of war expenses. If the league of nations were now in existence, this money could have been used for industrial and internal development," he said.

COMMISSIONERS ARE CLEANING UP FOR YEAR

Another Special Meeting Will be Held December 28 to Settle 1918 Matters

REPORT ON GUFFIN HIGHWAY

The county commissioners were in session today to clean up the year's business and to take care of a number of matters which have been pending. The commissioners were not able today, however, to take care of all business needing attention before the end of the year, and will hold another special meeting on December 28.

The commissioners expected to settle with the contractor for the Henry E. Guffin road in Union township, which was built by W. C. Neidhardt and company. The final report of the superintendent and engineer were on file ready for the commissioners' consideration.

In the matter of the Thomas Sullivan et al drain, the petitioners filed a proof of serving the notice. The report of the viewers was presented and the drain was ordered established.

TWO HUSBANDS ARE GRANTED DIVORCES

Clarence Borem and Clarence Stephens Given Decrees of Separation From Wives

CORA STEPHENS DEFAULTS

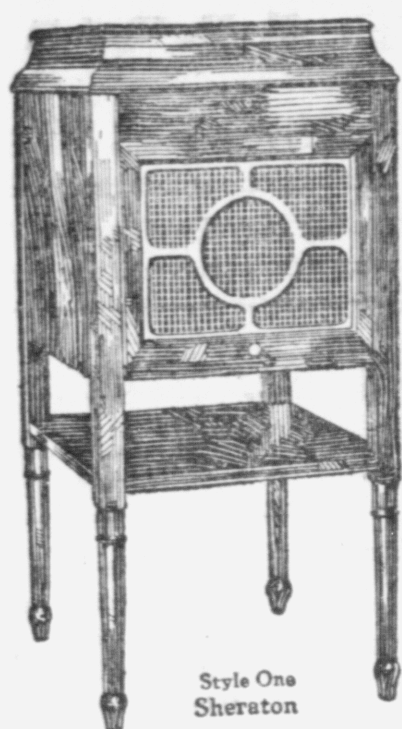

Two husbands were granted divorces by Judge Will M. Sparks in the circuit court today. Clarence Borem of this city being granted a decree of separation from his wife, Mrs. Bessie Borem, and Clarence Stephens a separation from his wife Mrs. Cora Stephens. Stephens has been in the army and came here today to appear against his wife, who defaulted. Prosecutor Stevens appearing for her.

The court overruled a motion in the case of the state on the relation of Mary Souther against Alfred Sharp, to relieve the defendant from making payments to the plaintiff as provided in the judgment in the case, since the baby of the Souther girl had died.

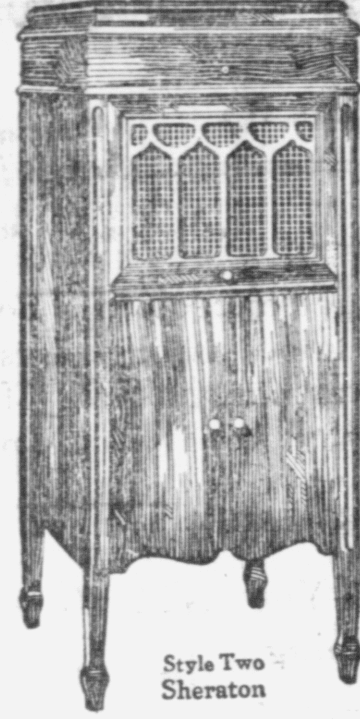

Judge Sparks also ordered an allowance of $7.50 a week for Mrs. A. G. Shauck of Arlington, who is suing her husband for divorce, and $25 for attorney's fees.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

NASH

The Rushville Auto Company is pleased to announce the coming of the Nash passenger cars and trucks to Rush county.

In taking over this line we have carefully looked into its record in service, as well as the standing of the Nash company.

It is well to note the following :

Mr. Nash, previous to taking over the Jeffry factory held the position as president of the General Motors Company for five years; and also General Manager of the Buick Motor Company for a number of years.

Mr. Nash also had charge of the airplane production for the U. S. Government during the world war.

During the war Mr. Nash produced $37,000,000 worth of Nash products for war services.

The Nash factory covers 100 acres of ground with 30 acres under cover, and employes 3,000 mechanics.

The Rushville Auto Company will be ready for delivery of Nash passenger cars in a short time and are now prepared to furnish Nash trucks. They now have a Nash two-ton truck, equipped with pneumatic tires, in operation.

On Getting Results.

We all like to see results. It is hard to work for a thing if you never know how near you are coming to it. We have been saving a cup of wheat flour, a pound of sugar, two pounds of meat, and all the small household amounts that seem to mean so little at the time. It has been hard sometimes because we felt that we were not accomplishing anything.

But the food administration has made out a table of exports showing the progress of world feeding from the United States. It shows in tons just how much larger our exports have been this year than at a corresponding time last year. It is gratifying to read this table, and know that we in our homes are largely responsible for the gain, because we did save that pound of sugar, that cup of wheat flour.

In three months, from July to October in 1917, we exported 93,962,477 pounds of beef. During this July, August and September, we sent to the Allies and our soldiers abroad 311,737,957 pounds. This is an increase of more than 200 million pounds.

There was a very large increase in the exportation of pork and pork products. Remember how we bought little bacon, and instead of the delicious ham that we liked to have on Saturday nights, had poultry instead? Giving up that ham helped to increase the pork exports from 196,256,750 pounds to 587,692,445.

The dairy exports went up from 130,071,165 pounds to 184,297,179 pounds. As dairy production was very much less, this increase represents the striking results of conservation. The housewife's part in making that increase possible was our determination not to waste a bit of milk, butter or cheese, and not to use a bit of butter in cooking.

The grain harvest in 1917-1918 was not good as usual, but we managed to send out almost twice as much in those three months of 1918 as in the same time in 1917. Last year it was 66,383,084 bushels, and this year 124,791,766. This was accomplished by mixing substitute flours with the wheat in all baking, and by cutting down bread allowances in hotels and restaurants and homes.

Already France has begun to make it easier for us by harvesting the wheat on the land recovered during the successful counter-offensive of July and August. This wheat has been gathered by the agricultural service of the armies with the aid of the office of Agricultural reconstitution.

Lastly, the table of exports shows what our efforts in saving sugar have done. This has been the hardest of all the sacrifices for us because we have always been such a sugar-loving nation, with our candies, cakes, pastries, sweet drinks Laf-bdnwfori-fe8, a(tiruy. fn.etaoi and rich desserts. But our lowered sugar ration made it possible for us to decrease our imports and to release shipping for war needs. About 600,000 tons of sugar was saved by the reduction to a 2-pound ration. Our sugar exports during the 3 months of July, August and September were 123,867,145 pounds.

The soldiers in the field who advanced could see the ground that they covered so that they knew they were advancing. The housewife, who is faithfully doing her part in feeding the world by saving food, can never see the big result of it all until she has an opportunity to see some statistics such as these pub-

Drooling Sentimentality.

As an effect to the sickening sympathy which some people are wasting upon the supposedly hungry Huns, the Berkeley, Cal., Gazette has begun the publication of a series of articles under the heading "Lest We Forget". These articles will relate well authenticated instances of German barbarities, perpetrated by German soldiers or German civilians with or without the authority of the German government. And instances are not lacking. From the day when the Kaiser denounced his treaty with Belgium as a mere scrap of paper and proceeded to devastate that in offensive country, down to the day of the signing of the armistice, the Germans were as ruthless as they were powerful. Their atrocities were limited only by their opportunities. None of the rules of civilized warfare was binding upon the Hun. No instinct of humanity prompted an act of mercy. Not even the helpless prisoner was immune from the brutality of the sons of Attila. Having heaped upon their foes every injury, indignity and insult which a savage mind could devise, the Huns deprived them of even the satisfaction of vengeance by seeking an armistice as soon as defeat was certain, and surrendering their fleet without firing a shot. The slightest sympathy bestowed upon such a people is absolutely wasted. The slightest aid advanced to them is worse than wasted. They are as incapable of appreciation and gratitude as they were wanting in either sense of honor or feeling of mercy. Newspapers that publish the facts tober, and had been in training in France only a short time when the armistice was signed.

It will be necessary to hold about 200 enlisted men of the engineers units at Fort Harrison to muster out the artillerymen. If this order had not come all the engineers, with the exception of a small group in post headquarters, would have been mustered out by tonight. Thirty engineer officers will remain at the camp for a few weeks to clean up other tasks. The 200 men to be held are experts at mustering out troops, as they are just finishing the task of mustering out more than 10,000 engineers.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—
DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Liniment" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say "Jack Robinson" out comes the rheumatic pain. "St. Jacobs Liniment" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia. Limber up! Get a 30 cent bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Liniment" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

FINGER PRINTS
IDENTIFY DEAD

Identified 33 of Men Lost With Tuscania Who Otherwise Would Have Been Unknown

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S REPORT

Remains of Soldiers to Lie Buried in France Until the Termination of The War

Washington, Dec. 21.—The decision of the War Department that the bodies of American soldiers who lost their lives in France should remain buried in that country until after the end of the war was reached in agreement with the government of France. This is disclosed in the annual report of Maj. Gen. Harris, adjutant general, made public.

"Under articles agreed upon by the United States and the French government," Gen. Harris says, "the remains of all soldiers who die in France are to lie buried in France until the termination of the war."

It was because of this agreement the report says, that relatives are informed of the place of burial of soldiers in France whenever this information is obtainable.

Among items of interest is the fact that the adoption of the finger print identification system for the service not only served to identify 33 of the men lost with the Tuscania, who would otherwise have been buried among the unknown dead, but also enabled the department to sift out 548 cases of fraudulent enlistment.

The report shows that a total of 5,037 enemy aliens were in custody as prisoners of war or under internment in this country. Of these, 1,411 were prisoners of war, including the crews of German auxiliary warcraft seized at the outbreak of war. No prisoners taken by the army in France have been brought to the United States.

Drama and Comedy Tonight

Comedy and drama will divide honors at the Princess theater tonight when Hedda Nova and Fran Glendon appear in "The Changing Woman," which is described as a thrilling story of the east and west, and Louise Fazenda and Ford Sterling will be seen in "Her Screen Idol," a rapid fire comedy. Norma Talmadge in "Her Only Way," is announced for Monday and Mabel Normand in "The Venus Model" for Christmas day.

"Playthings" at Mystic

Mothers and fathers of daughters will find themselves arraigned before the bar of Truth at the Mystic Theatre tonight, when Bluebird presents "Playthings," based on Sidney Toler's famous stage drama of the same name.

They will be asked without mincing of words whether it is not they who are responsible for most of the ruined innocence of the world—responsible because, through a policy of mistaken modesty and a disinclination to face the truths of life.

Musterole Loosens Up Those Stiff Joints—Drives Out Pain

You'll know why thousands use Musterole once you experience the glad relief it gives.

Get a jar at once from the nearest drug store. It is a clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Brings ease and comfort while it is being rubbed on!

Musterole is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Millions of jars are used annually for bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, cuts, muscle bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). 30c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50 they have allowed their daughters to grow up and to go forth into life unarmed by that knowledge which would have proved a buckler against the wiles of unprincipled men.

"Playthings" took its title from the heartbroken cry of a disillusioned girl, who realized too late what she had sacrificed to a man whose protestations of love were but the old, old lie: "Women are the playthings of men." Stronger than many of her sisters, the girl in this case resolves to build up her life anew, only, when she has attained something of happiness, or the promise of it, to be confronted by the past which she had fondly hoped was dead.

"Rock a Bye Baby"

Commencing with a matinee 25th, Selwyn and Company will present their new musical comedy "Rock a Bye Baby" for four nights and two matinees at the Shubert Murat Theatre.

All the advance notices, are conservative, alongside the comments of both critics and public which followed the presentation of this piece, at the Astor Theatre, New York, where it was an instantaneous success, not only did they agree that it was distinctly and decidedly in a class by itself, viewed merely from the standpoint of feminine loveliness.

Just for feat that there may be some, however, who get the idea that "Rock a Bye Baby" depends solely on its girls for its attractiveness as an entertainment, it is well to bear in mind that the book which was done by Margaret Mayo and Edgar Allan Woolf, is unquestionably one of the funniest farces ever produced. Those who have seen "Rock a Bye Baby" declare that it is best described as one long and prolonged whoop of joy.

The music by Jerome Kern is the kind that sets your lips to puckering and your feet to tapping. There is that quality to Mr. Kern's music that makes for its popular appeal. You can—and will—hum it and whistle it. To go with the music are scores of lyric by Herbert Reynolds whose lyrics have been the hit of several of the early season's successes.

Selwyn and Company under whose management "Rock a Bye Baby" is presented have spared nothing in the way of expense to gather a cast of par excellence. Jefferson d'Angelis is too well known to require more than the announcement that he is to appear, to bring hundreds of followers to the theatre, Edna Hibbard, Walter Lawrence, and the others in the company promise much, and what's more—fulfill their promise as entertainers.

Tickets for this attraction can be purchased from Hargrove & Mullins drug store.

What Britain Wants At the Peace Table

The leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week presents an enlightening summary of the demands that Britain may make at the peace conference as revealed in the editorial pages of the great English newspapers; also the most significant editorial comment in this country regarding them.

While German sympathizers and propagandists, we are told by Judson C. Welliver, in the New York Globe, are blowing assiduously upon every spark of anti-British feeling that is still alive in this country and are magnifying every suggestion of divergence between President Wilson and the British government, we find the American press discussing in an entirely dispassionate vein the outspoken words of Winston Churchill and Lloyd George concerning Britain's naval policy and other questions that will surely come up for discussion at the peace conference.

The outcome of the epoch-making visit of the President of the United States to Europe to take part in the peace deliberations, and of the great task that lies before him and the Allied leaders associated with him of effecting a just redistribution of nationalities and establishing stable governments in the new states to be created, is of vital moment to us in this country no less than to our brothers overseas. The best way to inform yourself upon the attitudes in which the various delegates approach the peace conference is to study the real issues, the actual conditions that lie beneath the surface, that are every day making history at a rate that is simply amazing. To get these facts, stripped of unessential details, clean-cut, and up to the minute, you have only to turn each week to THE LITERARY DIGEST, which provides you with world news of the first importance in instantly accessible form.

The EPWORTH LEAGUE Meeting at 7 P. M. SUNDAY will be A Xmas Treat for You!

Mrs. Walter Hubbard will be the charming hostess for the Bridge club Monday evening at her home in West Second street.

A very quiet wedding was solemnized this noon in the city treasurer's office by the justice of peace J. P. Stech, when Mrs. Lottie Craig, 62 years old of this county and D. M. Roseberry of Jennings county, age 72 years, were married.

The War Mother's club held their regular meeting this afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Blackledge in North Main street. After the regular business session the guests enjoyed a social hour. Corporal Jerome Caron, who was wounded at Verdun October 9 and is home on a furlough from the base hospital at Camp Sherman, O., was a special guest at the meeting.

The Ladies Musicale had a very pleasant meeting Thursday afternoon at the St. Paul's M. E. church. The program which was in charge of Mrs. F. E. Wolcott and Miss Alice Norris, was as follows: ladies chorus; "Columbia the Gem of the Ocean;" organ prelude, (a) "Liebesfreud" by Kreisler, (b) "Stars Dance" by Chaminade, Dorothy Sparks; piano duet, "Valse" by Pecharkowski, Mrs. Parke and Ernest Parke; violin solo, "Vasque Caprice," by Sarasate, Ernest Parke; vocal solo, "The Birthday of the King" by Nerdlinger, Maxine Brown; reading "The Spirit of the Red Cross," Louise Pitman; vocal solo, "When the Boys Come Home," Mrs. Neff Ashworth; violin trio, "Gondellied" by Bohn, Janet Dean, Gladys Tittsworth and Mary Louise Wyatt; ladies chorus, American Hymn, "Speed on Republic." The next meeting will not be held until January 15.

Days Pickings

Lieut. Earl B. Marlatt will deliver an address to his Sunday school class tomorrow morning at the M. E. church.

The Rev. R. A. Urey, pastor of the M. E. church at Gowdy is sick with pneumonia at the home of his parents, in Indianapolis.

The funeral services of William McBride, who died Thursday, will be held at the residence in West Ninth street Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, with the Rev. L. E. Brown in charge, and burial will take place at the Center church cemetery.

J. W. Hogsett has leased the Wingerter room formerly occupied by the Winship and Denning shoe store, in North Main street, and will move his dry goods store from its present location in East Second street, to the new room by February 1.

The divorce suit of Bertha Smith against S. Smith has been sent to Fayette county on a change of venue from the Rush circuit court and five days allowed to perfect the change. A motion for a change of venue was filed by the plaintiff.

The funeral services of James McCann, who was well known here, will be held at the late residence in Connersville Monday afternoon at two o'clock instead of Sunday, as was previously announced. The Rev. L. E. Brown of the Main Street Christian church will preach the funeral sermon.

Song—"Joy to the World"—School.

The American correspondents will make a trip through the battle zone during the Christmas holidays. Chaumonts and Tours will be among the points visited.

Count Romanones, the Spanish premier, was in conference for half an hour with President Wilson, last evening. It is reported that the premier invited the President to visit Spain, but no official announcement as to Mr. Wilson's reply has been made.

Premier Clemenceau also conferred with the President during the evening, being at the Murat palace from 9 to 9:30 o'clock.

The Sorbonne was to confer an honorary degree on the President today.

The preliminary peace conference at Versailles has been postponed until the beginning of February, at the earliest, says Marcel Hutin, editor of the Echo de Paris. This postponement is due, he says to changes in plans because of President Wilson's visit to England and the reconstruction of the British cabinet, which will occupy Premier Lloyd George as soon as the result of the elections is announced. December 28. Preliminary exchanges, which were to begin in Paris today, according to original plans, also have been deferred.

The Italian embassy gave a dinner in honor of King Victor Emmanuel and his son, the prince of Piedmont, last night. It was followed by a brilliant reception. Mr. and Mrs. E. M. House were present.

President Poincare and members of the ministry accompanied the Italian king to the station on his departure from the city.

WANT WILSON'S IDEAS ON RUSSIAN QUESTION

British Leaders Will Ask Him to Define His Attitude on His Arrival in England.

THOUGHT IMPORTANT TOPIC

(By United Press.)

London, Dec. 21.—President Wilson upon arrival here immediately after Christmas, will be urged by official leaders to define his attitude toward Russia.

Many officials regard the Russian situation as one of the most important problems now confronting the world.

The belief is that inasmuch as President Wilson will probably discuss the freedom of the seas and a league of nations, he should also explicitly define another of his fourteen points, self denial—and its application to Russia. Such action on his part, it is believed, certainly will clarify the situation.

Worth Attention of Women

When you feel too tired to work, when dark puffs appear under your eyes, when you wake up weary, with backache or pains in sides and loins, when muscles and bones ache, when you suffer rheumatic twinges, when lumbago puts you down, then you know the kidneys are weakened or disordered. Mrs. T. J. Bucknell, Route 1, Hardy, Neb., writes: "I am recovering from an attack of lumbago, by the aid of Foley Kidney Pills. They surely have helped me." F. B. Johnson.—Adv.

DR. OSBORN'S IMPROVED METHODS ARE EXCLUSIVELY HIS OWN, AND THERE IS NO GUESSWORK ABOUT IT. THEY HAVE PROVEN SUCCESSFUL.

In the treatment and cure "Without the use of the knife of Piles, Fistula, Fissure, Prostatic Enlargement, Rupture, Chronic Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Obstruction, Rheumatism, Stomach, Bowels and all other curable Chronic Diseases.

No Matter How Obstinate or How Contracted — Cured

When I say I can cure you, you can depend upon it, for I know from the successful results in thousands of similar cases to yours, just what I can accomplish. Grateful patients treated by me are constantly recommending others, and this is why I possess such a large practice.

Men! Women! If you do less than you should, on your farm, at your desk, or in your shop, you are in some way weak. If you can't accomplish all that you expect or hope for, you are the silent sufferer from some hidden disease that affects one or more of the important nerve centers of the body. These neglected or unknown conditions, are usually diseases of the Pelvic System, which reflexly act upon the organs of Elimination, digestion and the nervous system, which in turn has its influence on the brain. I have made a special study of the Nervous System and have perfected methods that will cure where ordinary methods have failed. I will give you a searching and thorough examination FREE, thus determining the exact location of your trouble.

BEAR IN MIND that I have in Indianapolis one of the most modern and thoroughly equipped offices in the state with a Specialist in charge who is ripe in years of experience, rich and mature in learning in his chosen work. That neither one of us will promise you more than we can give, and should you be unable to see me on date specified above, you can write, or better still, call at my office, 314 Traction Terminal Building, Indianapolis.

I do not use the knife, neither do I do any cutting.

Tomorrow May Never Come — Get In Touch With Me Today.

Are You Ruptured?

No ruptured man, woman or child need be told of the suffering and agony resulting from the neglect of this awful affliction, nor of your many disappointments and failure to find a cure by experimenting with old-fashioned treatments, leaving you the sufferer in even worse condition than before, and mentally skeptical of ever being cured.

Every ruptured person in Indiana who calls to see me is entitled to a Free Trial of the

Dr. Osborn Self-Adjusting Rupture Appliance

REMEMBER—It required much of my time during the past 19 years also labor and great expense to perfect this wonderfully simple and effective Appliance and make it possible to assure you relief. Know also that I ask NO MONEY UNTIL YOU ARE SATISFIED, as hundreds of others are now.

HOW 11 FIGURED IN END OF FIGHTING

J. W. Kennedy Says 11th Field Artillery Fired Farewell Volley of 11 Shots on His Sector

11TH HOUR, DAY AND MONTH

Former Rushville Boy Declares He Received Worst Scare 30 Minutes Before Firing Ceased

"I am sure glad that I can write to you and tell you that I came out of the great world war without a scratch. I consider myself very lucky indeed," says Private John W. Kennedy, Company C, 354th Infantry, in a letter of November 20 to his mother, Mrs. E. L. Kennedy.

Mrs. Harry McMillin, his sister, also has a letter dated November 9 and not mailed until November 20 because he did not have the opportunity sooner, in which he describes going over the top.

A peculiar coincidence related in the letter written after the armistice took effect, was the fact that on Private Kennedy's sector, the 11th Field Artillery fired a volley of eleven shots on the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month.

"I have had a number of 'close calls,' he writes, 'but I believe the worse scare I had, not the closest call, was the morning that peace came, about 20 or 30 minutes before the set hour (11 a. m.). The 'Dutch' started to shelling our position, which caused us a few casualties. It is terrible to think about it. That was what made it so hard to believe. Both sides shelled up to the last minute, but I can say in our immediate sector, the Americans fired the last shot."

"I sent you a cablegram the first possible chance," the former Rushville boy says, "after peace came, for I knew that you would probably think that I was in that final drive we dealt the 'Dutch' (the one that sent them to their knees) and I can say that I was very much in it. We gained ourselves a reputation in it, even as a company, as a battalion, as a regiment and even up to a division. I am sure the 89th won its place in history, and I can say that Company C did its share in bringing it about."

"You will never know what a happy bunch it was that 11-11-11th hour when the dove of peace floated over. It was very near unbelievable. Just to think that since August 5 (with the exception of about 36 hours), we have been in immediate shellfire range, then to have everything become quiet all at once, you can't imagine the relief it would bring to a person's nerves."

"To tell the truth," the soldier continues farther along in his letter, "I would not sell my experiences for $10,000, but I wouldn't give a dime to go through with them again." He thus commented on the luck of a friend of his who had not seen any

Although Private Kennedy's letter of November 9 was written before hostilities ceased, it is of especial interest because he gives a graphic description of going over the top and shows how lucky men really are who come out of a drive without a scratch.

"It takes a man with a far-seeing head on him to prepare for one of these big drives," he says. "And believe me you get anxious to know when the big event is going to take place, and when you find that out, you can imagine the anxiety of waiting until the set time to start over the top. There is such an uproar from our own artillery and machine gun fire (not saying anything about the shells and machine gun fire that Jerry is sending back) that you can stand up against your partner's ear and scream to your heart's content and you can never make him understand what you are saying to him."

"And talk about your fireworks display! A well outlined Fourth of July demonstration would look small to the side of this. All kinds of rockets, flares and different kinds of colored lights. Then comes the hazy gray dawn that we have been waiting for (it seems like ages coming) and the men begin to crawl out of their holes (dug there that night) to do whatever little things they might want to do before starting over the top. Then comes the command and we are started, shells lighting here and there, sometimes close, sometimes farther away. Once in awhile you would see a man go down, never to get up again, other to be rushed to the hospitals with a sharpnel through him."

"But I must say that the good Lord was sure with that bunch of brave boys that started out that cold morning of November 1 (which I will never forget as long as I live. The shells would hit right at their feet and sometimes life them in the air, but it seemed they were shell-proof. They would advance in spite of anything that could be done. For the most part we would stay from 100 to 200 yards behind our barrage and it was impossible to see much farther than that for the smoke screen made by our barrage. It would have been a beautiful day if the sun could have shone through that heavy smoke, but it was too thick. You could see that the sun was not covered by clouds, but it didn't warm us up any."

"We reached our objective by 11 o'clock that morning, which was four and a half kilometers, and then we were relieved and the others went on with the good work. We endeavored, then to try to make ourselves comfortable for the night, which consisted of making holes in the ground to keep away from the flying shrapnel. I was a little luckier than some of the rest. I found a hole where a German officer had been and it was rather a comfortable hole with covering over it to protect us from the rain, a small trench stove in it and best of all an old feather tick to rest my weary bones on. I can't remember the day, or rather night, that I slept any better than that night, although Jerry was sending over quite a few 'G. T.' cans (that is what we call the big shells because they sound like milk cans coming through the air).

"My buddies and I were standing by a tree talking over the events of the morning and a 'G. T.' can lit about fifteen feet from us and put a piece of shrapnel through his left jaw and tore his tongue up a little. Of course, that sent him to the hospital, but as for me I didn't get a scratch, but I can say this much, I have had any number of close calls."

Private Kennedy closes his letter with telling of the band coming out to the trenches on November 9 and playing a few selections. He also tells of rain falling all night and during the morning, which kept him in his underground refuge, but "there aren't any of the hardships we are going through with that. I can not stand just as long as we are running those 'Dutch' back on their own ground," he adds.

British capital in Natal expects to build up a considerable business in upholsterers' and bookbinders' leathers.

HIS EXPERIENCES OVERSEAS RECITED

Corporal Arthur Pullian, in Dad's Victory Letter, Describes How He was Wounded.

WAS LYING IN A SHELL HOLE

Hit Two Feet From Him and it was Last he Remembered Until he Awakened in Hospital.

In one of the justly celebrated "Dad's Victory Letters", Corporal Arthur Pullian, headquarters detachment of the 83rd division, writes his father, Andrew Pullian, 836 West Third street, describing how he was wounded in August and relating his experience while in France. His letter follows in part:

Today is dad's letter day so I have just a few moments to write. I just came from the hospital just a few weeks ago. What do you think of the war now? Believe me we made those Germans fly in the last three months. I was not with the boys in the last fight that we had. I do not know where my division is now. I guess they are still up on the front. I wish I was with them now.

Well dad, the war is finished and believe me there was many a time that I thought I was finished. They almost got me several times, but thank God, I pulled through it all. I would not have missed it for anything in the world. I was wounded but am all O. K. now, and am so busy that I have not the time to turn around. I am one of the lucky ones and I have seen many a father's son lying dead on the battle field, as well as fathers and brothers too. I have seen the boys fall on all sides of me but they did not get me yet. I would not take all of the money in the world for the sights that I have seen.

I was wounded on the fifth day of

Willard STORAGE BATTERY SERVICE STATION

What Does Testing Mean?

"Testing" means finding specific gravity of battery solution by measuring it with the hydrometer.

The test is simple, but of utmost importance because it is the only means of telling whether your battery is being kept in condition by proper charging or weakened by starvation.

Testing is an important part of the service that you as a user of a Willard Storage Battery are entitled to receive. We will make the test for you or show you how you can keep tab on your battery by testing it yourself every week or two.

When you come for your next test ask for the booklet, "A Mark with a Meaning for You."

the battle. If I was lying in a shell hole when here comes a big one, and I could tell that she was coming close, so I just huddled in a knot and all at once "wwwowwww". She hit just two feet alongside of me and that was the last that I could remember until I woke up in the American hospital. I received fine treatment while I was in there. That was in August and I did not get out until October.

I can say this much that I got my full share of Germans and believe me I had one of best machine guns in my company. The old baby barked just as long as you could keep her supplied with ammunition, of which we had a plenty, and we certainly did mow them down—just like a farmer cutting his wheat.

If I was also in the fight at Cantigny and the old 26th and 28th infantry were the only two regiments that captured it. We made the Germans think about something else and that was their hides and their beer. You ought to have seen them run just like a bunch of sheep turned loose. I can say this much, that they are good runners and say those big fellows (I mean those big fat ones) they were just out of luck that was all. You ought to have seen the Germans' eyes when they saw those Yanks coming after them. They were worse than a minstrel show.

Dad, if you could see some of the methods of warfare over here, you would say that the civil war was nothing compared with this. I have been on all fronts in France and believe me they can send me back to good old U. S. A. any time that they are ready.

People back in the States do not realize what France has gone through. I have fought beside the French at the Marne also at Cantigny and I know what they can do. I have visited Paris and several of the large towns of France and I can say this much, that they are very pretty. I am stationed at one of the oldest towns in France now and my work is in the movies. I have a machine and I make the towns where the troops are quartered and give them movies.

OUR RATES

All Advertisements, except display, are charged for at the rate of one-half cent per word for each insertion.
We earnestly solicit these advertisements by telephone and expect payment when the collector calls. Ads mailed in should be accompanied by the remittance, as the amount is generally too small to justify bookkeeping.

Cards of Thanks and Obituaries are charged for at the same rate, minimum 25 cents. No charge accounts opened.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS ARE NOT TAKEN AFTER 10:00 A. M. FOR PUBLICATION ON THE SAME DAY.

King of Italy Visits Troops in Belgium Before Leaving on Return Trip to Rome

(By United Press.)

Paris, Dec. 21.—President Wilson will return to Paris from his English trip, December 30, preparing to take up the final preliminaries of the formal allied conference. By that time he will have obtained the preliminary points of view of the British, French and Italian diplomats, together with those of some neutrals.

The presidential party will leave Paris for American headquarters, Chaumont, on a special train December 24.

Another special train will carry the party from Chaumont to a channel port Christmas night. The president will reach London at 2:30 in the afternoon. He will go to Buckingham palace where he will dine with King George. The president will dine at the Guild hall on the 27th and will go to Manchester on the 29th. On the 29th he will go to Carlisle, the birthplace of his mother, where there is to be a concert. He will return to London that night and will leave for Paris the following day.

Paris, Dec. 21.—King Victor Emmanuel of Italy left Paris at midnight to visit Italian troops in Belgium. Premier Orlando and Foreign Minister Sonnino, of Italy, remained in Paris, but will start for Rome tonight, expecting to return early in January. The Italian king will start Sunday for Rome, going directly from Belgium.

President Wilson and the American delegates had a day of few interruptions before them in which to study various plans proposed for carrying out Mr. Wilson's program.

Apparently the other powers are looking to the United States to present a concrete proposition concerning freedom of the seas. There is reason to believe the proposed limitation of construction of naval craft to lightly armored vessels, like revenue cutters, whose only purpose would be to protect merchant shipping, finds favor.

Advocates of this plan say there would be no further use for heavily armed ships, if all nations were placed on an equal footing by this means. In answer to the British plea that she requires a great navy to defend her colonies, exponents of limited armaments say, with no strong enemy of the sea, England would not require a great fleet, as she could protect her distant possessions by transported troops, sent on armed transports. This, however, is only an idea advanced to open

Encouraging Report From Health
Authorities Today

An encouraging report regarding the influenza situation was forthcoming from the health authorities today, only two new cases of the malady being reported. They were Miss Marjorie Cox, 1018 North Morgan street and Edna Mae Wyrick, 1121 West Market. No new cases outside of Rushville, according to the records of the health officers. Today's report is quite a contrast with yesterday's when there were fifteen additional patients.

NEW MEMBERS ARE ESTIMATED AT 6,500

Incomplete Reports on Red Cross
Roll Call Drive Indicate This
Today

ORANGE IS 61.26 PERCENT

It was estimated this afternoon that the total number of 1919 Red Cross members enrolled in Rush county Roll Call campaign was 6,500. This estimate is based on incomplete reports from many parts of the county and shows an increase of 1,000 over the estimate of Thursday.

It was stated today at Roll Call headquarters that many people were found who had never been solicited. Those in charge of the campaign urged people who had been missed to look up the canvassers in their districts and enroll at once.

Dave Alter, Orange township captain, today reported a total of 551 1919 members, which amounts to 61.26 percent of the population. In taking a careful census of the population, the solicitors found there had been a decrease of 181 since the government census of 1910.

The percent of members obtained in each district was as follows: N. E., Bert Reed chairman, 67.75; N. W., Claude Wagoner chairman, 65.16; S. W., Claude Miller chairman, 44.5; S. E., Harvey Fisher, chairman, 67.66.

WOULD NOT DISCUSS 5 OF WILSON'S 14 TERMS

Senator Lodge Urges Postponment
Until a Binding Peace Treaty
Has Been Signed

DOUBT ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS

(By United Press.)

Washington, Dec. 21.—Calling President Wilson's league of nations idea "exhausting and attractive," Senator Lodge, republican floor leader, seriously questioned its practice, its working plan, to keep the peace of the world. Lodge asked a series of questions as to whom would be members of the league, whether Germany is to be included and whether small nations are to have a vote equal to large nations.

Lodge urged postponement of discussion of the following five of the presidents fourteen peace terms until a satisfactory and binding peace treaty has been signed:

League of nations; freedom of seas; secret diplomacies; economic barriers; reduction of armament.

Declaring that "Germany did not change its nature over night when the kaiser ran away to Holland," Lodge demanded a peace backed by physical guarantee, that would make it impossible for that country "to break out again upon the world with a war of conquest."

FOR GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP.

Berlin, Dec. 21.—The soldiers' council, at its final session, adopted a measure providing for government ownership of telegraph lines and all essential industries.

Less Boasting and More Generosity Needed Here

Apropos of the recent agitation for a county hospital as a memorial for the Rush county boys who have served in the war, the following communication was today submitted to the Daily Republican for publication:

Your efforts to arouse interest in the matter of a memorial to the boys of this county, who have followed the flag in the great war, seems to have met with but little response. What's wrong with Rush County? The indifference which has marked the attitude of this community towards its boys in service has been a positive scandal.

Neighboring counties have long had their "Roll of Honor" conspicuously placed in the court house yard and most of them have already made definite plans for a permanent memorial. But here in rich, boastful Rush county the wells of gratitude have seemingly gone dry.

And then consider our record in the recent United War Work campaign. Indiana, our good old Hoosier state, quickly went over the top as usual. But Rush county deserves no share in the glorious record. She remains a nasty black spot on the map. Hardly more than half of the quota has been raised.

Yes, quibbling excuses may be advanced, but our neighbors did not stop to quibble, did not take refuge behind some mean criticism, as an excuse to tighten their purse strings at the first rumor of peace.

Without complaint they met the call which meant the safeguarding of the morals of the boys whose self-sacrifice made it possible for the rest of us to remain safe and comfortable at home.

Just now the Red Cross campaign is on, and we are told that slackers are being found, even in this noble work of mercy. Surely there must be something wrong of late in this once splendid glorious Rush county.

Might it not be well to have less boasting about the number of hogs we raise, about the bushels of corn these fruitful acres of the Almighty yield, about the ever-swelling bank accounts, and cultivate instead a little more of the spirit of Christian and civic generosity?

"Ill fares the land to hastening ills a prey,
Where wealth accumulates and men decay."

SALVATION DEPENDS ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Former German Ambassador Bernstorff is Optimistic About the Peace
Outlook.

DENIES PART IN PLOTS HERE

(By United Press.)

Berlin, Dec. 21.—German people feel that their political salvation is contingent upon the successful inauguration of a league of nations, according to the opinion of Count Von Bernstorff, former German ambassador to the United States. Bernstorff, who knows President Wilson better than any other German in public life, is optimistic over the outlook for the peace settlement along line advocated by the president.

He expressed his view in an interview with the United Press today. In his first public statement regarding America since the declaration of war, Bernstorff reiterated that he had done everything in his power to prevent a break between the United States and Germany.

He denied that he was in any way connected with the plot against the United States government fomented by the former attaches of the German ambassador at Washington.

MAKES AN APPEAL FOR COUNTY AGENT

T. A. Coleman Urges County Council, at Session Today, to Re-
new Appropriations

TURNED DOWN IN SEPTEMBER

T. A. Coleman of Lafayette, who is in charge of county agents work in Indiana under the direction of the Purdue extension department, made a plea before the county council today for a renewal of the appropriation to maintain an agricultural agent in this county.

The council refused to make this appropriation, as requested, at its annual meeting in September when the appropriations for next year's county expenses were made. It was impossible for the county council to reconsider its action of September today, according to the law, but it is stated that the council has the authority to make the appropriation in January if it sees fit to do so. There was much opposition to an agricultural agent at the September meeting and it is doubtful whether the council will make appropriate the necessary funds next year.

The council met today to make deficiency appropriations for this year.

Missouri Senator Sees Politics in

Washington, Dec. 21.—Charges that Deputy Attorney Becker, of New York, used the information he received about Bolo Pasha, for political purposes, were made today, by Senator Reed, Missouri, when the senate committee that is investigating the work of the German propagandists, resumed its hearing. Reed insisted that politics played a big part in Bolo affairs.

LATE SHOPPERS IN RUSH

Rushville Thronged With People
Doing Christmas Trading

Rushville was thronged today with late Christmas shoppers who were making their final purchases. The streets and stores were crowded and jammed with people, and the usual rush of the pre-Christmas season did not seem one bit less despite the agitation this year in favor of early shopping. Unusually large crowds have been in Rushville every day this week and business men report that Christmas trade has been extraordinarily good.

CHRISTMAS MAIL IS LIGHTER THAN USUAL

Postal Officials Declare Pre-Holiday
Business is Not up to The Standard

PLANS FOR CHRISTMAS DAY

Christmas business at the Rushville postoffice up to today has been smaller than at any pre-holiday season in several years, according to Postmaster G. P. Hunt. The reason for the falling off is not accounted for unless it be due to the fact that so many parcels were sent earlier to soldiers overseas. This, however, should not decrease the volume of business as much as it has fallen off.

The mailing station in the lobby of the postoffice was not opened until yesterday, and even then there was no great rush such as has been common at this season in other years. Postal officials, however, were expecting a big rush today and the first two days of next week.

As in the past, postal employees will deliver every Christmas package which arrives here Christmas day. For this reason patrons are asked not to call for parcels. It would be impossible to find them and they are assured of receiving all of the packages arriving here. Rural carriers will make the usual deliveries and will help with the city delivery of parcels if necessary.

FRANK ALFRED HELD FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

Accused of Appropriating to His Own Use $250 Worth of Junk
Belonging to Employer

WORKING FOR HYMAN SCHATZ

Frank Alfred of this city was arrested at Laurel yesterday evening by T. McAllister, special constable from Squire Stech's court, on a charge of embezzlement made in an affidavit filed by Hyman Schatz, local junk dealer, Alfred's former employer. Squire Stech fixed Alfred's bond at $500 and he is still, being unable to provide bail.

Alfred is accused in the affidavit of embezzling $250. It is alleged that on or about October 30 he appropriated junk worth this sum for his own uses, having obtained possession of it while buying junk by virtue of his employment by Schatz.

Alfred gave the authorities a long chase before they finally found him at Laurel and placed him under arrest.

George Washington Is Due on Christmas Day
(By United Press.)

New York, Dec. 21.—The United States transport, George Washington, carrying Indiana troops, is due to arrive in port on Christmas day, it was reported at embarkation headquarters today.

CAPT. KIPLINGER NOT COMING HOME

Commander of Headquarters Company is Attached to Third American Army of Occupation.

CABLE RECEIVED BY WIFE

Indications are 139th Will be Mustered out at Fort Harrison, According to New Order.

Captain John H. Kiplinger who organized Company B here and was made commander of the headquarters company of the 139th Field Artillery when that organization was formed from Indiana infantry regiments at Camp Shelby, Miss., is not on the George Washington which is bringing the 139th home, but is attached to the Third American army of occupation, according to a cablegram received by his wife yesterday evening.

Captain Kiplinger said in the cable that he would soon be in Coblenz, the German fortress on the Rhine, which has been occupied by American troops. The message disclosed that Captain Kiplinger's efforts to get on detached duty so he would not have to return home at once, have been rewarded.

Indications were today that the 139th as well as the 137 Field Artillery, which as well is made up mostly of Indiana men and is a unit of the 38th division, would be mustered out of the service at Fort Benjamin Harrison. There is every reason to believe this because of an order received at Fort Harrison yesterday.

The two regiments are aboard the transport George Washington, on which President Wilson went to Europe, and are due to arrive at New York about Christmas eve. The order received at Ft. Harrison did not name the two regiments, but it did say 3,000 artillerymen were coming to the United States on the George Washington, which could mean no others.

The 137th Field artillery, formerly commanded by Colonel George W. Freyermuth, was the old 3d Indiana infantry, and the 139th, now under command of Colonel Robert L. Moorhead, was the 4th Indiana infantry.

It is not known here who is commanding the 137th artillery. Colonel Freyermuth did not go abroad with the regiment. Lieutenant-Colonel Orville Kilmer was second in command under Col. Freyermuth.

The order received by Colonel Wildurr Willing, post commander at Ft. Harrison, advises him that 3,000 artillerymen now at sea enroute to this country, will be demobilized here and instructs the post commander to prepare to muster the men out of service here. The order also advises that the artillerymen will be entrained for the journey from sea-board immediately after they are landed from the ship. No time will be spent in an eastern cantonment. Allowing for delays it is expected the regiments will arrive here in two weeks. About one week will be required to muster out officer and men.

The 3d Indiana Infantry was recruited in northern Indiana, and the 4th Indiana infantry was recruited in Indiana by Colonel Moorhead. After the two regiments had been settled in training at Camp Shelby, Mississippi, more than a year ago, their designations as national army units were given them. News that they were to be converted into artillery was received while the regiments were at Ft. Harrison. Officers were considerably shocked by the announcement at that time, as they all had some training in infantry work, and none in artillery. Throughout the year that the regiments remained in this country after being mobilized, officers and men underwent intensive artillery training. They sailed for Europe in Oc-

SPAIN IN FAVOR OF LEAGUE

(By United Press.)

Paris, Dec. 21.—Spain to the last man, favors the league of nations, Premier Romonos declared in an interview with the United Press here today.

"Half of Spain's national budget, consists of war expenses. If the league of nations were now in existence, this money could have been used for industrial and internal development," he said.

COMMISSIONERS ARE CLEANING UP FOR YEAR

Another Special Meeting Will be Held December 28 to Settle 1918 Matters

REPORT ON GUFFIN HIGHWAY

The county commissioners were in session today to clean up the year's business and to take care of a number of matters which have been pending. The commissioners were not able today, however, to take care of all business needing attention before the end of the year, and will hold another special meeting on December 28.

The commissioners expected to settle with the contractor for the Henry E. Gallin road in Union township, which was built by W. C. Neidhardt and company. The final report of the superintendent and engineer were on file ready for the commissioners' consideration.

In the matter of the Thomas Sullivan et al drain, the petitioners filed a proof of serving the notice. The report of the viewers was presented and the drain was ordered established.

TWO HUSBANDS ARE GRANTED DIVORCES

Clarence Borem and Clarence Stephens Given Decrees of Separation From Wives

CORA STEPHENS DEFAULTS

Two husbands were granted divorces by Judge Will M. Sparks in the circuit court today. Clarence Borem of this city being granted a decree of separation from his wife, Mrs. Bessie Borem, and Clarence Stephens a separation from his wife Mrs. Cora Stephens. Stephens has been in the army and came here today to appear against his wife, who defaulted. Prosecutor Stevens appearing for her.

The court overruled a motion in the case of the state on the relation of Mary Souther against Alfred Sharp, to relieve the defendant from making payments to the plaintiff as provided in the judgment in the case, since the baby of the Souther girl had died.

Judge Sparks also ordered an allowance of $7.50 a week for Mrs. A. G. Shauck of Arlington, who is suing her husband for divorce, and $25 for attorney's fees.

Mrs. P. H. Kirkpatrick of Mays, Dies at 11:15 O'clock Today

Mrs. P. H. Kirkpatrick of Mays, age 29 years, died this morning at 11:15 o'clock at her home from pneumonia following the influenza. Mrs. Kirkpatrick was sick with the influenza for several days before developing pneumonia, last Saturday. She was a member of the Center Christian church. The deceased leaves her husband; two children, Florea and Wendell; two sisters, Mrs. Fred Jackson and Mrs. Berry Rush, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Osborne. The funeral services will be held Monday morning at ten o'clock at the Center Christian church.

Children smile when they take

FOLEY'S HONEY-TAR

1st. It tastes good.
2nd. It makes them feel good.
3rd. It will turn a distressed, fretful child into a happily smiling one.
Because it is just what children ought to have for feverish colds, coughs, croup, "snuffles" and heavy, wheezy breathing. It puts a healing, soothing coating on a feverish, inflamed, tickling throat, and it stops coughs quickly. It is good for croup, too.
It contains no morphine, chloroform, or other drug that you would not like to give to your child, and it is just as effective for grown-ups.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

NASH

The Rushville Auto Company is pleased to announce the coming of the Nash passenger cars and trucks to Rush county.

In taking over this line we have carefully looked into its record in service, as well as the standing of the Nash company.

It is well to note the following:

Mr. Nash, previous to taking over the Jeffry factory held the position as president of the General Motors Company for five years; and also General Manager of the Buick Motor Company for a number of years.

Mr. Nash also had charge of the airplane production for the U. S. Government during the world war.

During the war Mr. Nash produced $37,000,000 worth of Nash products for war services.

The Nash factory covers 100 acres of ground with 30 acres under cover, and employs 3,000 mechanics.

The Rushville Auto Company will be ready for delivery of Nash passenger cars in a short time and are now prepared to furnish Nash trucks. They now have a Nash two-ton truck, equipped with pneumatic tires, in operation.

On Getting Results.

We all like to see results. It is hard to work for a thing if you never know how near you are coming to it. We have been saving a cup of wheat flour, a pound of sugar, two pounds of meat, and all the small household amounts that seem to mean so little at the time. It has been hard sometimes because we felt that we were not accomplishing anything.

But the food administration has made out a table of exports showing the progress of world feeding from the United States. It shows in tons just how much larger our exports have been this year than at a corresponding time last year. It is gratifying to read this table, and know that we in our homes are largely responsible for the gain, because we did save that pound of sugar, that cup of wheat flour.

In three months, from July to October in 1917, we exported 93,962,477 pounds of beef. During this July, August and September, we sent to the Allies and our soldiers abroad 311,737,957 pounds. This is an increase of more than 200 million pounds.

There was a very large increase in the exportation of pork and pork products. Remember how we bought little bacon, and instead of the delicious ham that we liked to have on Saturday nights, had poultry instead? Giving up that ham helped to increase the pork exports from 196,256,750 pounds to 587,692,445.

The dairy exports went up from 130,071,165 pounds to 184,297,179 pounds. As dairy production was very much less, this increase represents the striking results of conservation. The housewife's part in making that increase possible was our determination not to waste a bit of milk, butter or cheese, and not to use a bit of butter in cooking.

The grain harvest in 1917-1918 was not good as usual, but we managed to send out almost twice as much in those three months of 1918 as in the same time in 1917. Last year it was 60,383,084 bushels, and this year 124,791,766. This was accomplished by mixing substitute flours with the wheat in all baking, and by cutting down bread allowances in hotels and restaurants and homes.

Already France has begun to make it easier for us by harvesting the wheat on the land recovered during the successful counter-offensive of July and August. This wheat has been gathered by the agricultural service of the armies with the aid of the office of Agricultural reconstitution.

Lastly, the table of exports shows what our efforts in saving sugar have done. This has been the hardest of all the sacrifices for us because we have always been such a sugar-loving nation, with our candies, cakes, pastries, sweet drinks. Laf-ban-wor-fes, a tiruy, fu etaol and rich desserts. But our lowered sugar ration made it possible for us to decrease our imports and to release shipping for war needs. About 600,000 tons of sugar was saved by the reduction to a 2-pound ration. Our sugar exports during the 3 months of July, August and September were 123,867,145 pounds.

The soldiers in the field who advanced could see the ground that they covered so that they knew they were advancing. The housewife, who is faithfully doing her part in feeding the world by saving food, can never see the big result of it all until she has an opportunity to see some statistics such as these pub-

Drizzling Sentimentality.

As an effect to the sickening sympathy which some people are wasting upon the supposedly hungry Huns, the Berkeley, Cal., Gazette has begun the publication of a series of articles under the heading "Lest We Forget". These articles will state well authenticated instances of German barbarities, perpetrated by German soldiers or German civilians with or without the authority of the German government. And instances are not lacking. From the day when the Kaiser denounced his treaty with Belgium as a mere scarp of paper and proceeded to devastate that in offensive country, down to the day of the signing of the armistice, the Germans were as ruthless as they were powerful. Their atrocities were limited only by their opportunities. None of the rules of civilized warfare was binding upon the Hun. No instinct of humanity prompted an act of mercy. Not even the helpless prisoner was immune from the brutality of the sons of Attila. Having heaped upon their foes every injury, indignity and insult which a savage mind could devise, the Huns deprived them of even the satisfaction of vengeance by seeking an armistice as soon as defeat was certain, and surrendering their fleet without firing a shot. The slightest sympathy bestowed upon such a people is absolutely wasted. The slightest aid advanced to them is worse than wasted. They are as incapable of appreciation and gratitude as they were wanting in either sense of honor or feeling of mercy. Newspapers that publish the facts tober, and had been in training in France only a short time when the armistice was signed.

It will be necessary to hold about 200 enlisted men of the engineers units at Fort Harrison to muster out the artillerymen. If this order had not come all the engineers, with the exception of a small group in post headquarters, would have been mustered out by tonight. Thirty engineer officers will remain at the camp for a few weeks to clean up other tasks. The 200 men to be held are experts at mustering out troops, as they are just finishing the task of mustering out more than 10,000 engineers.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—
DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

Rub Soreness from joints and muscles with a small trial bottle of old St. Jacobs Liniment Stop "dozing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Liniment" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain. "St. Jacobs Liniment" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia.

Limber up! Get a 30 cent bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Liniment" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

FINGER PRINTSIDENTIFY DEAD

Identified 33 of Men Lost With Tuscania Who Otherwise Would Have Been Unknown

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S REPORT

Remains of Soldiers to Lie Buried in France Until the Termination of The War

Washington, Dec. 21.—The decision of the War Department that the bodies of American soldiers who lost their lives in France should remain buried in that country until after the end of the war was reached in agreement with the government of France. This is disclosed in the annual report of Maj. Gen. Harris, adjutant general, made public.

"Under articles agreed upon by the United States and the French government," Gen. Harris says, "the remains of all soldiers who die in France are to lie buried in France until the termination of the war."

It was because of this agreement the report says, that relatives are informed of the place of burial of soldiers in France whenever this information is obtainable.

Among items of interest is the fact that the adoption of the finger print identification system for the service not only served to identify 33 of the men lost with the Tuscania, who would otherwise have been buried among the unknown dead, but also enabled the department to sift out 548 cases of fraudulent enlistment.

The report shows that a total of 5,037 enemy aliens were in custody as prisoners of war or under internment in this country. Of these, 1,411 were prisoners of war, including the crews of German auxiliary warcraft seized at the outbreak of war. No prisoners taken by the army in France have been brought to the United States.

Musterole is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Millions of jars are used annually for bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). 30c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50 they have allowed their daughters to grow up and to go forth into life unarmed by that knowledge which would have proved a buckler against the wiles of unprincipled men.

"Playthings" took its title from the heartbroken cry of a disillusioned girl, who realized too late what she had sacrificed to a man whose protestations of love were but the old, old lie: "Women are the playthings of men." Stronger than many of her sisters, the girl in this case resolves to build up her life anew, only, when she has attained something of happiness, or the promise of it, to be confronted by the past which she had fondly hoped was dead.

"Rock a Bye Baby"

Commencing with a matinee 25th, Selwyn and Company will present their new musical comedy "Rock a Bye Baby" for four nights and two matinees at the Shubert Murat Theatre.

All the advance notices, are conservative, alongside the comments of both critics and public which followed the presentation of this piece, at the Astor Theatre, New York, where it was an instantaneous success, not only did they agree that it was distinctly and decidedly in a class by itself, viewed merely from the standpoint of feminine loveliness.

Just for fear that there may be some, however, who get the idea that "Rock a Bye Baby" depends solely on its girls for its attractiveness as an entertainment, it is well to bear in mind that the book which was done by Margaret Mayo and Edgar Allan Woolf, is unquestionably one of the funniest farces ever produced. Those who have seen "Rock a Bye Baby" declare that it is best described as one long and prolonged whoop of joy.

The music by Jerome Kern is the kind that sets your lips to puckering and your feet to tapping. There is that quality to Mr. Kern's music that makes for its popular appeal. You can—and will—hum it and whistle it. To go with the music are scores of lyrics by Herbert Reynolds whose lyrics have been the hit of several of the early season's successes.

Selwyn and Company under whose management "Rock a Bye Baby" is presented have spared nothing in the way of expense to gather a cast of par excellence. Jefferson d'Angelis is too well known to require more than the announcement that he is to appear, to bring hundreds of followers to the theatre, Edna Hibbard, Walter Lawrence, and the others in the company promise much, and what's more—fulfill their promise as entertainers.

Tickets for this attraction can be purchased from Hargrove & Mullins drug store.

What Britain Wants At the Peace Table

The leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week presents an enlightening summary of the demands that Britain may make at the peace conference as revealed in the editorial pages of the great English newspapers; also the most significant editorial comment in this country regarding them.

While German sympathizers and propagandists, we are told by Judson C. Welliver, in the New York Globe, are blowing assiduously upon every spark of anti-British feeling that is still alive in this country and are magnifying every suggestion of divergence between President Wilson and the British government, we find the American press discussing in an entirely dispassionate vein the outspoken words of Winston Churchill and Lloyd George concerning Britain's naval policy and other questions that will surely come up for discussion at the peace conference.

The outcome of the epoch-making visit of the President of the United States to Europe to take part in the peace deliberations, and of the great task that lies before him and the Allied leaders associated with him of effecting a just redistribution of nationalities and establishing stable governments in the new states to be created, is of vital moment to us in this country no less than to our brothers overseas. The best way to inform yourself upon the attitudes in which the various delegates approach the peace conference is to study the real issues, the actual conditions that lie beneath the surface, that are every day making history at a rate that is simply amazing. A Xmas Treat for You!

Mrs. Walter Hubbard will be the charming hostess for the Bridge club Monday evening at her home in West Second street.

A very quiet wedding was solemnized this noon in the city treasurer's office by the justice of peace J. P. Stech, when Mrs. Lottie Craig, 62 years old of this county and D. M. Roseberry of Jennings county, age 72 years, were married.

The War Mother's club held their regular meeting this afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Blackledge in North Main street. After the regular business session the guests enjoyed a social hour. Corporal Jerome Caron, who was wounded at Verdun October 9 and is home on a furlough from the base hospital at Camp Sherman, O., was a special guest at the meeting.

The Ladies Musicales had a very pleasant meeting Thursday afternoon at the St. Paul's M. E. church. The program which was in charge of Mrs. W. E. Wolcott and Miss Alice Norris, was as follows: ladies chorus; "Columbia the Gem of the Ocean;" organ prelude, (a) "Liesbet's Dream" by Kreisler, (b) "Stars Dance" by Chaminade, Dorothy Sparks; piano duet, "Valse" by Pecharkowski, Mrs. Parke and Ernest Parke; violin solo, "Vasque Caprice" by Sarasate, Ernest Parke; vocal solo, "The Birthday of the King" by Nerlinger, Maxine Brown; reading "The Spirit of the Red Cross," Louise Pitman; vocal solo, "When the Boys Come Home," Mrs. Neff Ashworth; violin trio, "Gondellied" by Bohu, Janet Dean, Gladys Tittsworth and Mary Louise Wyatt; ladies chorus, American Hymn, "Speed on Republic." The next meeting will not be held until January 15.

Days Pickings

Lieut. Earl B. Marlatt will deliver an address to his Sunday school class tomorrow morning at the M. E. church.

The Rev. R. A. Urey, pastor of the M. E. church at Gowdy is sick with pneumonia at the home of his parents, in Indianapolis.

The funeral services of William McBride, who died Thursday, will be held at the residence in West Ninth street Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, with the Rev. L. E. Brown in charge, and burial will take place at the Center church cemetery.

J. W. Hogsett has leased the Wingerter room formerly occupied by the Winship and Deeming shoe store, in North Main street, and will move his dry goods store from its present location in East Second street, to the new room by February 1.

The divorce suit of Bertha Smith against Walter S. Smith has been sent to Fayette county on a change of venue from the Rush circuit court and five days allowed to perfect the change. A motion for a change of venue was filed by the plaintiff.

The funeral services of James McCann, who was well known here, will be held at the late residence in Connersville Monday afternoon at two o'clock instead of Sunday, as was previously announced. The Rev. L. E. Brown of the Main Street Christian church will preach the funeral sermon.

SWEDISH FLEET APPEARS

Copenhagen, Dec. 21.—The Swedish fleet has appeared off Esthonia coast, according to dispatches received today. Bolshevik forces are reported to be retiring from the Wesenberg front.

EXPECT DEFINITE

PROGRAM FROM U. S.

Delay in formulating plans for the procedure of the peace conference is causing uneasiness among American and other foreign correspondents, who are eagerly waiting definite announcements as to whether open sessions will be held.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM OF M. E. SUNDAY SCHOOL

A Christmas program will be given at the St. Paul's M. E. Sunday school on Sunday morning at 9:30 to which everyone is invited. The following numbers will be given on the program:

Song "The Fight is On"—School.
Prayer—Rev. C. S. Black.
Scripture reading—Emerson Price.
Solo—"Away in a Manger," Kathryn Wamsley.
Recitation—Margaret Todd.
Solo—Magdalene Arbuckle.
Red Cross reading—Louise Pitman.
Solo—"Winds Through the Olive Trees"—Lowell Wagoner.
Reading—Joan Weakley.
Solo—Rosaline Reed.
Musical Monologue—Louise Janis.
The Christmas Lesson—Judge Will M. Sparks.
Solo—Miss Kathryn Guffin.
Announcements.
Song—"Joy to the World"—School.

The American correspondents will make a trip through the battle zone during the Christmas holidays. Chaumonts and Tours will be among the points visited.

Count Romanones, the Spanish premier, was in conference for half an hour with President Wilson, last evening. It is reported that the premier invited the President to visit Spain, but no official announcement as to Mr. Wilson's reply has been made.

Premier Clemenceau also conferred with the President during the evening, being at the Murat palace from 9 to 9:30 o'clock.

The Sorbonne was to confer an honorary degree on the President today.

The preliminary peace conference at Versailles has been postponed until the beginning of February, at the earliest, says Marcel Hutin, editor of the Echo de Paris. This postponement is due, he says to changes in plans because of President Wilson's visit to England and the reconstruction of the British cabinet, which will occupy Premier Lloyd George as soon as the result of the elections is announced. December 28. Preliminary exchanges, which were to begin in Paris today, according to original plans, also have been deferred.

The Italian embassy gave a dinner in honor of King Victor Emmanuel and his son, the prince of Piedmont, last night. It was followed by a brilliant reception. Mr. and Mrs. E. M. House were present.

President Poincare and members of the ministry accompanied the Italian king to the station on his departure from the city.

WANT WILSON'S IDEAS ON RUSSIAN QUESTION

British Leaders Will Ask Him to Define His Attitude on His Arrival in England.

THOUGHT IMPORTANT TOPIC

(By United Press.)

London, Dec. 21.—President Wilson upon arrival here immediately after Christmas, will be urged by official leaders to define his attitude toward Russia.

Many officials regard the Russian situation as one of the most important problems now confronting the world.

The belief is that inasmuch as President Wilson will probably discuss the freedom of the seas and a league of nations, he should also explicitly define another of his fourteen points, self denial—and its application to Russia. Such action on his part, it is believed, certainly will clarify the situation.

When I say I can cure you, you can depend upon it, for I know from the successful results in thousands of similar cases to yours, just what I can accomplish. Grateful patients treated by me are constantly recommending others, and this is why I possess such a large practice.

Men! Women! If you do less than you should, on your farm, at your desk, or in your shop, you are in some way weak. If you can't accomplish all that you expect or hope for, you are the silent sufferer from some hidden disease that affects one or more of the important nerve centers of the body. These neglected or unknown conditions, are usually diseases of the Pelvic System, which reflexly act upon the organs of Elimination, digestion and the nervous system, which in turn has its influence on the brain. I have made a special study of the Nervous System and have perfected methods that will cure where ordinary methods have failed. I will give you a searching and thorough examination FREE, thus determining the exact location of your trouble.

J. W. Kennedy Says 11th Field Artillery Fired Farwell Volley of 11 Shots on His Sector

11TH HOUR, DAY AND MONTH

Former Rushville Boy Declares He Received Worst Scare 30 Minutes Before Firing Ceased

"I am sure glad that I can write to you and tell you that I came out of the great world war without a scratch. I consider myself very lucky indeed," says Private John W. Kennedy, Company C, 354th Infantry, in a letter of November 20 to his mother, Mrs. E. L. Kennedy.

Mrs. Harry McMillin, his sister, also has a letter dated November 9 and not mailed until November 20 because he did not have the opportunity sooner, in which he describes going over the top.

A peculiar coincidence related in the letter written after the armistice took effect, was the fact that on Private Kennedy's sector, the 11th Field Artillery fired a volley of eleven shots on the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month.

"I have had a number of close calls," he writes, "but I believe the worst scare I had, not the closest call, was the morning that peace came, about 20 or 30 minutes before the set hour (11 a. m.). The 'Dutch' started to shelling our position, which caused us a few casualties. It is terrible to think about it. That was what made it so hard to believe. Both sides shelled up to the last minute, but I can say in our immediate sector, the Americans fired the last shot."

"I sent you a cablegram the first possible chance," the former Rushville boy says, "after peace came. For I knew that you would probably think that I was in that final drive we dealt the 'Dutch,' (the one that sent them to their knees) and I can say that I was very much in it. We gained ourselves a reputation in it, even as a company, as a battalion, as a regiment and even up to a division. I am sure the 89th won its place in history, and I can say that Company C did its share in bringing it about."

"You will never know what a happy bunch it was that 11-11-11th hour when the dove of peace floated over. It was very near unbelievable. Just to think that since August 5 (with the exception of about 36 hours), we have been in immediate shellfire range, then to have everything become quiet all at once, you can't imagine the relief it would bring to a person's nerves."

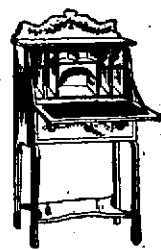

"To tell the truth," the soldier continues farther along in his letter, "I would not sell my experiences for $10,000, but I wouldn't give a dime to go through with them again." He thus commented on the luck of a friend of his who had not seen any

Although Private Kennedy's letter of November 9 was written before hostilities ceased, it is of especial interest because he gives a graphic description of going over the top and shows how lucky men really are who come out of a drive without a scratch.

"It takes a man with a far-seeing head on him to prepare for one of these big drives," he says. "And believe me you get anxious to know when the big event is going to take place, and when you find that out, you can imagine the anxiety of waiting until the set time to start over the top. There is such an uproar from our own artillery and machine gun fire (not saying anything about the shells and machine gun fire that Jerry is sending back) that you can stand up against your partner's ear and scream to your heart's content and you can never make him understand what you are saying to him."

"And talk about your fireworks display! A well outlined Fourth of July demonstration would look small to the side of this. All kinds of rockets, flares and different kinds of colored lights. Then comes the hazy gray dawn that we have been waiting for (it seems like ages coming) and the men begin to crawl out of their holes (dug there that night) to do whatever little things they might want to do before starting over the top. Then comes the command and we are started, shells lighting here and there, sometimes close, sometimes farther away. Once in awhile you would see a man go down, never to get up again, other to be rushed to the hospitals with a sharpnel through him."

"But I must say that the good Lord was sure with that bunch of brave boys that started out that cold morning of November 1 (which I will never forget as long as I live. The shells would hit right at their feet and sometimes life them in the air, but it seemed they were shell-proof. They would advance in spite of anything that could be done. For the most part we would stay from 100 to 200 yards behind our barrage and it was impossible to see much farther than that for the smoke screen made by our barrage. It would have been a beautiful day if the sun could have shone through that heavy smoke, but it was too thick. You could see that the sun was not covered by clouds, but it didn't warm us up any."

"We reached our objective by 11 o'clock that morning, which was four and a half kilometers, and then we were relieved and the others went on with the good work. We endeavored then to try to make ourselves comfortable for the night, which consisted of making holes in the ground to keep away from the flying shrapnel. I was a little luckier than some of the rest. I found a hole where a German officer had been and it was rather a comfortable hole with covering over it to protect us from the rain, a small trench stove in it and best of all an old feather tick to rest my weary bones on. I can't remember the day, or rather night, that I slept any better than that night, although Jerry was sending over quite a few 'G. T.' cans (that is what we call the big shells because they sound like milk cans coming through the air).

"My buddies and I were standing by a tree talking over the events of the morning and a 'G. T.' can lit about fifteen feet from us and put a piece of shrapnel through his left jaw and tore his tongue up a little. Of course, that sent him to the hospital, but as for me I didn't get a scratch, but I can say this much, I have had any number of close calls."

Private Kennedy closes his letter with telling of the band coming out to the trenches on November 9 and playing a few selections. He also tells of rain falling all night and during the morning, which kept him in his underground refuge, but "there aren't any of the hardships we are going through now that I can't stand just as long as we are running those Dutch back on their own ground," he adds.

British capital in Natal expects to build up a considerable business in upholsterers' and bookbinders' leathers.

Corporal Arthur Pulliam, in Dad's Victory Letter, Describes How He was Wounded.

WAS LYING IN A SHELL HOLE

Hit Two Feet From Him and it was Last he Remembered Until he Awakened in Hospital.

In one of the justly celebrated "Dad's Victory Letters", Corporal Arthur Pulliam, headquarters detachment of the 83rd division, writes his father, Andrew Pulliam, 836 West Third street, describing how he was wounded in August and relating his experience while in France. His letter follows in part:

Today is dad's letter day so I have just a few moments to write. I just came from the hospital just a few weeks ago. What do you think of the war now? Believe me we made those Germans fly in the last three months. I was not with the boys in the last fight that we had. I do not know where my division is now. I guess they are still up on the front. I wish I was with them now.

Well dad, the war is finished and believe me there was many a time that I thought I was finished. They almost got me several times, but thank God, I pulled through it all. I would not have missed it for anything in the world. I was wounded but am all O. K. now, and am so busy that I have not the time to turn around. I am one of the lucky ones and I have seen many a father's son lying dead on the battle field, as well as fathers and brothers too. I have seen the boys fall on all sides of me but they did not get me yet. I would not take all of the money in the world for the sights that I have seen.

I was wounded on the fifth day of

Willard STORAGE BATTERY SERVICE STATION

What Does Testing Mean?

"Testing" means finding specific gravity of battery solution by measuring it with the hydrometer.

The test is simple, but of utmost importance because it is the only means of telling whether your battery is being kept in condition by proper charging or weakened by starvation.

Testing is an important part of the service that you as a user of a Willard Storage Battery are entitled to receive. We will make the test for you or show you how you can keep tab on your battery by testing it yourself every week or two.

When you come for your next test ask for the booklet, "A Mark with a Meaning for You."

ARRIVES FROM OVERSEAS

Capt. Cary Carson, formerly of this county, has arrived in this country from overseas, according to a letter written at Hoboken, December 18 and received by friends here. He said that he expected to be mustered out soon. Capt. Carson was with the 84th division which was organized at Camp Taylor, Ky., and transferred to Camp Sherman, Ohio, before going overseas.

There are forty-eight different diseases to which the eye is subject. No other organ of the human frame has such a list.
